

Carla Jane Mann Wins A C C O L A D E S

Currently a manager in the Department of General Services, Carla Jane Mann is the recipient of the YWCA's Tribute to Women and Industry (TWIN) 2002 Award. YWCA's TWIN Award is the premier businesswomen's recognition event in San Diego County. It honors women who have made a significant contribution in managerial, executive or professional roles and honors those employers that provide opportunities for women to achieve.

Carla Jane has served San Diego County residents for 30 years in various services and programs beginning her career as an intermediate clerk in the Department of Revenue and Recovery and continuing an upward path through the organization. Positions held include eligibility supervisor in Social Services, housing specialist in Housing & Community Development, administrative assistant in the Sheriff's Department, assistant to the Chief Administrative Officer and special projects manager, acting director of the Department of EDP, and a deputy director and General Services manager. Her vast experience in County government is providing a valuable resource in her current capacity — working with the County's Enterprise Resource Planning Project. Once fully implemented, this project will provide state-of-the-art financial and management information to County managers and staff.

Carla Jane's professional credentials include a B.A. degree in English from State University of New York, and a B.S. degree in speech pathology/audiology and masters in public administration from San Diego State University. Congratulations to an exemplary member of the CSG management team, and for an award well deserved!

From Alex's
D E S K

As we are about to close out the fiscal year, we can reflect with pride on last year and the many CSG accomplishments. Our accomplishments as a group are attributed to the competent and dedicated staff in each of our departments and I am proud to be associated with you and grateful for all your contributions.

A few of the highlights include expanding the Books-By-Mail Program for enhanced access to library resources, providing rental assistance to approximately 8,700 families per month, advising and assisting County departments in energy management to achieve a 10% reduction in energy usage, conducting the March Presidential Primary Election without a hitch, enhancing the County's office supply contract to include expansion of core items and electronic ordering, and opening a new, state-of-the-art animal shelter.

As we acknowledge and celebrate our successes, however, we must not forget the immediate challenge of managing our way through the State budget problem. Without a doubt, our County is the best prepared among the 58 counties to cope with the adverse impacts imposed by a $24 billion State budget deficit. We should all strive to remain informed on this matter in order to avoid any non-productive overreactions to budget news from Sacramento. By remaining focused in our fiscal discipline and making sound operational adjustments, we will succeed in maintaining the quality of life in the communities we serve.

Thank you again for your professional excellence and commitment to public service. I look forward to another successful year for the Community Services Group.

Animal Control

After nearly a year's delay due to a devastating arson fire during construction, the new Kroc-Copley Animal Shelter finally opened to the public on Saturday, May 4.

Supervisors Pam Slater and Greg Cox attended the dedication celebration on May 3. Afterwards, other city and county officials and contributors joined nearly 250 animal lovers on a tour of the $9 million, state-of-the-art facility owned by the City and operated by the County.

Supervisor Slater addresses the happy crowd at the new Kroc-Copley Animal Shelter.

Immediately following the long-awaited event, Department staff worked through the night to move all operations, equipment and the more than 200 shelter animals from the old Central Shelter to the new "digs" at the Kroc-Copley facility in time to open for business at noon the next day.

General Services

Fleet Management has recently implemented an upgraded version of its Fleet Management Information System. The old system, known as GEMS 2000, was implemented in the mid-1990's and is now being replaced by "M4."

The system records all county vehicle maintenance, internal service fund billing, parts inventory control, fleet technician timekeeping and ultimately will be used as an extensive vehicle accident tracking program. All customer departments will have access to M4 applications.

According to Fleet Manager John Clements, "M4 is a solid Fleet Management Information System and, with a new connectivity process in place, we feel good about our decision to upgrade and use the program."

Housing and Community Development

In May, the Department entered into a partnership with the Health and Human Services Agency to provide housing assistance for emancipated foster youths 18 to 21 years of age. This collaborative program prepares these disadvantaged youths for a successful transition to independence and self-sufficiency. In addition to safe, clean, decent and affordable housing, the program offers support services such as budget and financial training, employment and rental deposit assistance. With the rental subsidy assistance, the participants are able to establish rental credit history and work toward self-sufficiency. The program targets youths leaving foster homes and currently provides assistance to 37 young adults.

Library

Librarians made local history in the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Parade on Saturday, May 11. A "Library Book Cart Precision Drill Team" was formed for the occasion. American flags, fake books, ribbons, and Lemon Grove lemons decorated eight book carts and the banner which proclaimed the official debut of the "Friends of the Lemon Grove Library Book Cart Drill Team."

Lemon Grove Library staff Sonya Heiserman, Isabel Sanchez, Christine Haines, and Pat Rogers, along with Supervising Librarian Cheryl Cline, her daughter Amanda, and Friends of the Lemon Grove Library and volunteers, enthusiastically navigated the book carts — to the delight of onlookers and themselves.

Library enthusiasts strut their stuff (Judy Fergus followed by daughter Amber and Chris Haynes).

"We are the best without a doubt; Lemon Grove Library, check us out!" chanted the high energy team, followed by everyone on the team spinning their carts in a circle to the outside. As the group came into view, onlookers cheered and clapped in appreciation.

Purchasing and Contracting

The Department has completed a year-end financial analysis of the Central Stores Revolving Fund for FY 2000-01. The analysis revealed that expenses for operating Central Stores were less than the revenue generated. In other words, a profit was realized! Although, in the business world, experiencing a profit is the goal to be successful, an ISF operation seeks only to cover its expenses.

As a result, the Department refunded, via cash transfer, a total of $193,000 to Central Stores customers based on their percentage of business during the fiscal year. Customers can be assured that Purchasing and Contracting will continue striving to incorporate best business practices and procurement efficiencies with the goal of providing services and commodities at the lowest possible cost.

Around the Group

Registrar of Voters

Registrar of Voters staff proudly represents the County of San Diego at all Immigration and Naturalization ceremonies in the region. Not only do the Registrar's staff help new citizens register to vote immediately following each ceremony, but also answer their many questions about the election process and voting in general. The ceremonies are held at either Golden Hall, the Scottish Rite Temple or the Cabrillo National Monument. Anywhere from 400 to 1,700 new citizens participate in each of these ceremonies, representing as many as 50 to 90 countries of origin.

Marci Nylund, who coordinates the Registrar's new citizenship efforts, said: "I love going to these ceremonies, because it is such a very special day in their lives. I am honored, as a County employee, to be able to assist them in exercising their rights and responsibilities as citizens to register to vote."

Meet new citizen Carmen Valenzuela.

On May 15, Marci had a special customer at the Registrar's voter registration booth at Golden Hall. Carmen Valenzuela, a Senior Clerk in the Registrar of Voter's office, was sworn in as a new United States citizen. What was the first thing Carmen did upon becoming a new citizen? Register to vote, of course.
